Ice-coated Wires And Trees Cause Heaviest Damage In 25 Years In West End Of County

Wear electric and telephone repair crews labored to restore telephone and power service to the mountain areas west and northwest of Gettysburg today, as this section counted its losses in the thousands from the ice storm which coated trees and wires with as much as two inches of ice over the weekend.

Most of the telephones in the section were back in service today, and users of Metropolitan Edison current had "juice" again early Sunday evening, but the Adams Electric Cooperative reported that crews were still working today to restore electric power and light service in some sections badly hit by the storm.

Fruit growers in the Mt. Newman-Mt. Carmel-Mt. Tabor-Brysonia areas counted their losses in the thousands of dollars as they surveyed hundreds of fruit trees in mountain orchards broken off or split wide open by the weight of ice which formed on limbs.

Highways were littered with debris, particularly on secondary township roads, and several poles were broken. Many television aerials were bent or broken by the weight of the ice. Icicles which formed from the partial melting Saturday and Sunday were from ten inches to two feet in length. Some defied the law of gravity by pointing upward, as they were bent and twisted by the wind.

Although limited to a comparatively narrow belt through the mountains from below Fairfield to the York Springs-Mount Holly Springs Rd., the ice was the worst in more than 25 years, older residents of the area said. The temperatures in this section were several degrees lower than other areas in the county, which suffered little or no damage from the ice.

Sounded Like War
The cracking of ice-laden trees and poles presented an eerie sound. The sound was like sharp explosions, disturbing sleep and resembling the sound of a small war.

Near the home of William Cole on the Buchanan Valley Rd. above The Narrows, a 4,600-volt power line writhed across the highway, melting the tar on the road where blue flames leaped and sizzled.

Solid ice covered everything in the area, except where travel on the main highways had broken it to slush. Hundreds of persons drove through the area Sunday afternoon.

An 11-man crew of the Metropolitan Edison Co. under the direction of James Munshour, foreman, restored service on the Meco lines at 5:45 p.m. Sunday, and Richard E. Dreas, district manager, said no further trouble had been reported. Damage to Meco lines was particularly heavy on the gravel road between the Lincoln Hwy. and St. Ignatius Catholic Church, he said.

Expect Further Trouble
Some further trouble may be experienced, Mr. Dreas said, when the trees lose their weight of ice and snap back to normal positions, striking wires again. He said only 35 Meco consumers were involved in the power cut off. Several homes which have oil burners were without heat because the furnaces could not operate without electricity.

Mr. Dreas said heavy fog Saturday night hampered the efforts of repair crews, and that between two and three inches of fresh snow fell in the mountains Sunday afternoon. The crew started the emergency work at 11:30 o'clock Friday night.

Calvin A. Cluck, REA manager, said ice still remained on wires and trees and considerable damage was caused by the winds Sunday night. In addition to damage Thursday night, Friday and Saturday. Crews were still at work today but expected to have service restored today. Some poles of the REA were broken. Most of the broken wires were being spliced, but in some cases new wires were necessary, he said.

24 Telephones Out
The United Telephone Co. said 24 telephones were out of service in the Mt. Newman section, and 28 others in the Mt. Carmel area. Service was restored by running temporary lines. There were two telephone lines out on Mt. Newman and two at Mt. Carmel. The telephone company also had cable trouble at Biglerville, due to water, however, and not ice. This was being cleared up today, John Caldwell, local manager, said.

Most telephones were restored to service today, he said, except on back roads where fallen trees and limbs had to be removed before repair crews could reach the scene of the trouble.

In addition to the orchard losses, heavy damage to timber was also reported in the mountains.

ANTIQUE SHOP DAMAGED BY $3,000 BLAZE

Damage estimated tentatively at between $3,000 and $4,000 was caused by fire Saturday evening at the Mary Jane Antique Shop, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Barach, about three miles west of Emmitsburg along the Waynesboro highway.

The fire was discovered about 11 o'clock by an unidentified passing motorist. Two trucks from each the Fairfield and Emmitsburg Fire Companies responded. Recently purchased searchlights of the Emmitsburg Company were used to advantage.

Upon arrival of the fire companies the kitchen and a wooden annex to the stone property were found entirely in flames. The companies pumped water from a nearby stream and succeeded in preventing the spread of flames to the house proper.

Two Pet Dogs Die
Harper Hiner, Fairfield fire chief, said it is believed the fire started from an oil lamp or oil stove in the kitchen.

Two pet dogs of the owners, who were in Emmitsburg at the time the fire started, were found dead due to smoke suffocation.

Many valuable antiques were damaged and the interior of the stone portion of the house was damaged by heat, smoke and water. The fire companies remained on duty until after 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Barach are temporarily residing with relatives in Harrisburg. They also operate an antique shop east of here along the Lincoln Highway.

Organist Richard B. Shade provided wedding music and accompanied the vocalist, David R. Swope, brother of the bride, who sang "Because." "At Dawning" and "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Sister Is Attendant
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white lace over satin designed with a mandarin neckline and long sleeves tapering over the wrists. Her nylon tulle veil was trimmed with lace and fell from a headpiece of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and roses.

CATHOLIC MEN ARE ENCOURAGED TO STAND FIRM

Approximately 100 members of the Holy Name Society of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church were told to "stand up for your convictions" Sunday morning by Major Thomas Martin, superintendent of the state police training school at Hershey.

Major Martin, a state trooper for the past 38 years, was the speaker at the annual Communion breakfast, served in the cafeteria of the parochial school on W. High St., following the 7 a.m. mass at which the group received Holy Communion.

"Unless one stands up for his convictions, he is likely to become contaminated by persons with the wrong ideas of life," Major Martin declared. "We, as individuals, cannot be indifferent nor can we be neutral. We must be so firm in our ideals and our convictions that we unconsciously act from them."

"Keep Faith Firm"
"Police men especially must keep their faith firm, for we have many evidences of what happens when they do not. It is a policeman's duty to be constantly around every type of crime and immorality. If he allows himself to adopt a neutral attitude toward crime and immorality, if he is indifferent to his faith and ideals, he can easily become contaminated. STUDENTS AND FACULTY WILL DONATE BLOOD; QUOTA BOOSTED

About 400 Gettysburg College students and faculty members have appointments to give blood Tuesday or Wednesday at the Red Cross Blood Donor Center to be set up in the SCA building lobby at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The expected 300 pints to be collected on the campus will be the first step toward meeting Adams County's sharply increased quota of blood for 1953.

Chapter officials have been notified by the Red Cross Baltimore Defense Blood Center that the recent commitment of National Red Cross to furnish gamma globulin for use as an immunizing serum against polio will call for an increased quota of blood donations from all centers to keep up the flow of whole blood and plasma for the fighting men in Korea.

Next Visit Here Jan. 23

The county's new quota is expected to be about 1,400 pints of blood. In 1952, 1139 pints were gathered here.

The next Blood Donor Day for the general public here is Friday, January 23, and Donor Service officials said today they "need many more donors if we're going to gather 150 pints here that day."

The two-day visit to the Gettysburg College campus by the bloodmobile from Baltimore has the assistance of the county Red Cross chapter which will furnish aides and is being sponsored and promoted by the Interfraternity Council headed by President Alfred R. Mareks. On the last Donor Days on the campus last April, the students and faculty gave 297 pints.

Want 54,000 Pints By July 1

The center will operate from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day. Students under 21 years of age returned from Christmas vacations with signed consents from their parents for the blood donations.

Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, chairman of volunteer services for the county Red Cross chapter, is in charge of chapter participation in the campus Donor Days.

The approximately 44 per cent jump in the blood quotas for 1953 over last year was brought about by the setting of a 54,000-pint goal for the first six months for the Baltimore Defense Center which serves Adams County with bloodmobile service.

Ike Offered 236 Year Old Bible

YORK, Pa. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower has been offered a 236-year old Bible of his ancestors for use in taking his oath of office.

Mrs. Lottie Bear of nearby Mt. Wolf R. 1 offered to send Eisenhower the aged book containing a hand-written history of the President-elect's ancestor, Peter Eisenhower who came to this country from Germany in 1717.

The Bible, stained brown by age, was given to Mrs. Bear by her late husband, Paul A. Baer, a distant relative of the President-elect. Bear was writing a history of the family when he died last August.

ADAMS ELECTRIC HOLDS ELECTION; REPORT GAINS

Growth of the Adams Electric Cooperative during the last decade was outlined Saturday afternoon at the annual meeting of the organization at the Gettysburg High School auditorium.

General Manager C. A. Cluck reported that the cooperative in the period from 1942 to 1952 grew from 1,440 members to 5,381 members; that it increased its line mileage from 554 to 1,391, that total billing jumped in the ten years from $5,552.72 to $38,028.12 per month and that the average monthly bill increased from $3.86 to $7.07.

Taking the month of December as his basis, Cluck said the members were now paying larger bills, but getting far more power for their money than they did ten years ago. The member who paid the $3.86 bill in December, 1942, received 60 kilowatt hours of current while the member who paid $7.07 in December, 1952, received 228 kilowatt hours of power.

Pay-Back $210,169

Up to the present time the 12-year-old cooperative has paid off $210,869.25 of its borrowings from the federal government, Cluck said. Its payments of principal, plus two per cent interest on the money borrowed, is spread over a period of 35 years. At present, the cooperative owes $1,828,130.75. The current volume of business, Cluck said, will offer no difficulty in paying off its debt over the years. Taxes paid by the cooperative in the last year total $2,234.25.

At present, the cooperative has about $50,000 being held for emergencies such as the ice conditions over the last several days, Cluck reported. Describing the breaking of poles and lines by the ice formation in Buchanan Valley and westward in the mountains, Cluck said the ice "was the worst in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. We were lucky that the damage was not more extensive."

"People use the term REA in connection with our cooperative," Cluck said, "but we are not part of the REA. The REA lent us the money to get started. For a time it audited our books and sent us engineers to make sure we would stay in a position to pay them back. But we have no connection with REA and now it has told us we are 'grown up' and no longer provides auditors or engineers. We have to provide both for ourselves."

Bullets Wing Blue Jays 96-59 For 7th Win Without Defeat; Play At Penn State Tonight

Turning in a 42.4 percentage on shooting from the floor, the undefeated Gettysburg College basketball team thoroughly trounced Johns Hopkins 96-59 here Saturday night for their seventh successive victory before about 1,200 fans.

The Blue Jays failed to live up to their advance billing as a threat to the Bullets as they were completely outplayed from start to finish.

Tonight the Bullets face their supreme test so far this season when they tangle with Jesse Arnette and his Nittany Lions at State College. The game will be broadcast over WGET, starting at 8 o'clock.

For six minutes of Saturday's game it looked as though the Bullets would be held to their lowest score of the season. Playing a slow and deliberate game, Johns Hopkins held the Bream-men to an 8-6 lead at that time. Then the Bullets started to connect from all angles and paced by Bob Pizolato, Jack Keller and Dale Kleinfelter, poured through 16 points in the final four minutes of the round to take a 22-8 lead. The Blue Jays were kept well under control by the tight Bullet defense and could do little under the boards.

Gettysburg's fast-breaking team simply outsped the Marylanders in the second period with Johnny Habeeb, Joe Lang, Keller and Pizolato, flogging the cords consistently to build up a 47-25 lead at half time.

The third frame was repetition of the second as the Bullets started the ball time and again on intercepted passes and turned them into scores. Johns Hopkins had turned from its man-to-man defense to a zone but it proved equally ineffective. At the start of the final period the Bullets were in front 78-42.

After two minutes of the final period the Bullets lead 89-44 which resulted in Coach Bream sending in an entire reserve team. The scrubs tried desperately to push the total to the century mark but pressed too hard and blew many comparatively easy chances.

Well Rounded Attack
Habeeb, Pizolato and Lang accounted for 21, 18 and 16 points, respectively, while Keller and Kleinfelter came up with 14 and 13, due primarily to their outstanding work beneath the hoops. Sam Margolis was high man for the visitors with 15.

Following tonight's game with Penn State, the Bullets meet Lehigh here Saturday evening. The first twin bill of the season is scheduled for the evening. Johnny Yovissin's freshmen, playing host to the Western Maryland frosh in the preliminary.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGES SEEN IN GRID RULES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (P)—The football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association started its annual conference today, with prospects of making few, if any important changes in the present regulations.

Most of the 11 members seemed satisfied with the way college football was played last season.

"I think we have a fine set of rules," commented Michigan's athletic director Fritz Crisler, the committee chairman. "I hope there won't be any changes in the game. Of course, we're not going to legislate against progress, but we will stand pat until we hear some very good reasons for rewriting any rules. Constant changes confuse the coaches, the players and the spectators."

An advisory committee of college coaches headed by Columbia's Lou Little has submitted a number of proposals, including one intended to discourage the so-called "sucker shift," a maneuver to draw the enemy offense.

The coaches asked the rules committee to make it illegal for a lineman to change position after assuming his stance in the line with one or both hands on the ground.

"Some of us felt that lurching by the lineman is what pulls the opposition offside," Little said. "We're just throwing that suggestion in as a starting point for discussion. It may lead the committee to a better solution than we have been able to find."

Won't Affect Notre Dame
Many coaches at last week's NCAA meetings in Washington said they didn't believe the proposed change would end the sucker shift because it wouldn't restrict the maneuvers of the backfield.

Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, who was accused of using a sucker shift to pull Oklahoma and Southern California offside when the Irish were in scoring territory, said the change wouldn't have any effect on his style of attack.

The coaches also are recommending that T quarterbacks be made eligible to receive a forward pass after handling the ball from center and that the old fair catch signal—one outstretched arm—be restored.

here and former U. S. Open Winner, took third money of $1,000 with scores of 70-70-69-209.

WILL ANNOUNCE BALTIMORE'S PRO GRID COACH

BALTIMORE (P)—After snapping up $250,000 worth of season tickets to get their town back into the National Football League, Baltimoreans expected to learn today who will coach the newly won club.

The name of Keith Molesworth, former Chicago Bears quarterback and backfield coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers, was most loudly whispered as NFL Commissioner Belt Bell called a press conference for this afternoon.

Also invited to the conference were the owners of the new franchise, who were announced only yesterday.

Old Colt Figures
Three of them—Thomas Mullan, Zanyl Krieger and William F. Hilgenburg—were directors of the old Baltimore Colts, which were abandoned two years ago by Abe Warner, then president.

The other two new owners are Bruce Livie, automobile dealer and thoroughbred racer, and Carroll Rosenbloom, clothing manufacturer.

They were identified by William Macmillan, counsel for the old Colt board and a leader of the two-year fight by minority stockholders to regain the league franchise.

Macmillan's announcement was an anti-climax to a campaign, begun a month ago by a citizens committee, to sell 15,000 season tickets to assure the return of pro football to Baltimore.

10 COLLEGES IN HOT WATER WITH NCAA: FACE JOLT

WASHINGTON (P)—Somewhere in the United States today there are 10 institutions of higher learning nervously waiting for the first to fall from college athletics' new police force.

Who the "Unholy ten" are remains a well-kept secret but they themselves are aware of a couple of uncomfortable facts:

1. They are in "hot water" because of questionable athletic policies. The National Collegiate Athletic Association says so.

2. If found guilty, they face quick and probably stern punishment, with no immediate recourse, as in other years, to the NCAA membership.

Big 10 Included
While the 10 schools have not been identified, they are reported to include some big-time universities—a Big Ten member, a strong Southern power.

They serve as test cases of the new enforcement arm of the meeting of the NCAA convention here Saturday.

Their cases are termed "serious" by the immediate past president of the body, Hugh C. Willett. The charges of misconduct are being reviewed by the NCAA Membership Committee. The cases go to the powerful 17-man council with recommendations. Then the council acts.

In the most significant legislation of the 47th annual meeting of college athletic leaders, the council was equipped with the power short of suspension or expulsion.

WASHINGTON—Fred Dwyer, Villanova, beat Stur Landquist of Sweden by four yards in the mile run of the Washington Evening Star games with 4:19.4.

The coaches asked the rules committee to make it illegal for a lineman to change position after assuming his stance in the line with one or both hands on the ground.

"Some of us felt that lurching by the lineman is what pulls the opposition offside," Little said. "We're just throwing that suggestion in as a starting point for discussion. It may lead the committee to a better solution than we have been able to find."

Many coaches at last week's NCAA meetings in Washington said they didn't believe the proposed change would end the sucker shift because it wouldn't restrict the maneuvers of the backfield.

Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, who was accused of using a sucker shift to pull Oklahoma and Southern California offside when the Irish were in scoring territory, said the change wouldn't have any effect on his style of attack.

The coaches also are recommending that T quarterbacks be made eligible to receive a forward pass after handling the ball from center and that the old fair catch signal—one outstretched arm—be restored.

Pro Wrestling At Madrid Tonight

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Jan. 12—The Great Humphrey, a wrestling character "born" out of the widely syndicated Joe Palooka comic strip, will make his Harrisburg mat debut tonight at the Madrid.

As a co-feature for the previously announced tugfest between Primo Carnera and Leslie (Lord) Carlton, Promoter Bert Bertolini has matched the 260-pound Great Humphrey with the 300-pound Golden Terror in a match which will test the Madrid's squared circle to the very limit, what with 560 pounds of beef on the hoof being tossed hither and yon.

In every-day life the Great Humphrey is Joe Vitale, who hails from the usually peaceful town of Ozark, Mo., Ozark, however, ceased to be peaceful once Humphrey, nee Vitale, entered the grappling game.

MIDDLEWEIGHT TOURNEY WILL PICK NEW CHAMP

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (P)—New York state and the National Boxing Association, working arm in arm in a new era of co-operation, today will set up a nationally recognized tournament to determine an "American" middleweight champion.

The NBA announced its recommendations yesterday for a five-man tournament with the survivor meeting the winner of a European title bout between Randy Turpin and Charles Humez for the world championship.

Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said he agreed substantially with the NBA list but wanted to be sure no worthy candidate is overlooked.

To Iron Out Details
Christenberry meets today with George Barton, NBA president; Commissioner Abe Greene and John (Ox) Da Grossa to iron out the final details.

The NBA plans call for four bouts involving Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu, Norman Hayes of Boston, Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., and Pierre Langlois of France.

Two of the four matches already have been announced. Olson fights Hayes at Boston Feb. 7, the day after the Castellani-Langlois bout will meet Durando with the survivor facing the Olson-Hayes victory.

Heavyweight Action
The NBA said it would recognize any Turpin-Humez bout only as a European title match and would not crown any world champion until the American and European champs met. It will allow only a "reasonable" period between matches before forcing action.

There was action in the heavyweight division where Da Grossa of the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission was asked to produce a contract calling for a return bout between Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott with 90 days of their Sept. 23 fight.

GHS On Road For Two Games This Week; Junior High Is Host To Waynesboro Tuesday

Gettysburg High School takes to the road for a pair of South Penn League games this week as another heavy scholastic program is listed for all county teams.

The Warriors (6-1) tangle with Waynesboro on the latter's floor Tuesday night and clash with a very strong Hershey team at Hershey Friday night.

Undoubtedly coach George Forney will point his outfit to stopping Tom Cross, 6-7 pivot man for the Tornados. Cross became a marked man by racking up 33 points last Tuesday against Mechanicsburg. Hanover stopped the giant with but four points and took a 55-42 decision Friday.

Coach Forney's team showed much of their pre-league form in walloping Shippensburg Friday night. Their team-work was a great improvement from that in the Carlisle game and there is every reason to believe the Warriors will be in the thick of the race until the finish.

Big Tilt At Carlisle
The "big" game of the league will find Chambersburg at Carlisle. Both have 2-0 records. Chambersburg was somewhat of a disappointment Friday night when it barely squeezed past Hershey 46-45 on the Chambersburg floor.

Other loop games listed for Tuesday will find Hanover (1-1) at Shippensburg (0-2) and Mechanicsburg (1-1) at Hershey (1-1).

The Adams County Boys' League has the following games listed for Tuesday: Newville at Littletown, York Springs at East Berlin, New Oxford at Boiling Springs and Biglerville at Fairfield.

Friday night's boys' and girls' games in the county circuit will be Littletown at Boiling Springs, York Springs at Biglerville, East Berlin at New Oxford, and Fairfield at Newville.

Rogers Herr's local Junior High team, seeking its first win after two setbacks, meets Waynesboro here Tuesday evening in a double-header and on Friday will be host to Delone Catholic freshmen in a single game.

Delone Has Pair
Completing Tuesday's scholastic layout will be the Delone-Harrisburg Catholic tilt at Harrisburg. York Catholic will be at Delone Friday night.

St. Mary's continues its cage schedule with three games, all away, as follows: Tonight, American University; Wednesday, Loyola, and Saturday, Washington College.

MITINGER WINS NELSON AWARD

BOSTON (P)—The 1952 Nelson V. (Swede) Nelson sportsmanship award has been given to Joe Mitinger of Greensburg, Pa., who captained Yale's football squad.

He was the seventh player to receive the award, dedicated to a former Harvard player and coach. Mitinger was selected in a nationwide poll of football coaches, writers and broadcasters, many of who cited the player's conduct during the Harvard-Yale game as demonstrating "a high esteem for the football code and exemplifying sportsmanship to an outstanding degree."

During the third period of that game, Mitinger, a defensive guard, noticing that Harvard player Dice Clasy had collapsed, waved his teammates aside and then walked behind the injured player as he was being carried from the field.

COLLEGE CAGE RACES NEARING HALF-WAY MARK

NEW YORK (P)—With the basketball season approaching the halfway mark, the various conference championship races are getting warmed up and you can get some idea as to who's going to win what.

Conference championships, of course, mean automatic qualification for the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament in March. Four more conference titlists were voted automatic spots by the NCAA convention last week, which means that 14 of the 23 teams in the tourney will be representatives of one group or another. Last year 10 of the 16 teams were conference kings.

A look at the record books emphasizes the importance of the conference entries. Only Holy Cross in 1947 and City College of New York's ill-fated cinderella kids of 1950 have broken the "conference" reign in the tourney's 14-year history.

Kansas Faces Big Test
Kansas, defending national and Big Seven champion, has come along well after a slow start, but the comparatively inexperienced jayhawkers get the acid test Saturday. Their opponents? None other than Kansas State, top-ranked team in the Associated Press poll with a record of eight victories and only one defeat.

Kansas started its conference play Saturday with a 76-57 trouncing of Iowa State, while Saturday's game will be the first conference tilt for State.

Saturday also is the night for the top contenders in the Big 10. Indiana, national champion back in 1940, has a perfect 5-0 league mark so far this year but Saturday night will meet Illinois, a national semifinalist last year. Indiana wrapped up No. 5 with a last-minute 66-63 victory over Minnesota, while Illinois made its record 4-1 by beating Wisconsin, 71-61.

Illinois Ranks Fourth
Illinois is ranked fourth nationally and Indiana seventh.

North Carolina State, six-time champion of the Southern Conference but never a national titlist, is expected to romp through the conference tournament again, even though the wolf pack have a one-point loss to Wake Forest marring their early season record. They're rated ninth.

State's victim Saturday night was Duke, by an 82-64 count as 6-8 Bob Speight dumped in 28 points. North Carolina's Tarheels, however, are pacing the circuit with seven wins in as many outings.

With Kentucky, a three-time winner of the national crown in the past five years, sidelined by the NCAA this year, there'll be a new Southeastern Conference champion for the first time in years. Most likely it will be Louisiana State, currently leading the circuit with a 3-0 mark and a 75-55 winner over Mississippi State Saturday.

Other Contenders
Oklahoma A&M, the only team besides Kentucky to win more than NCAA title (1945-46), has yet to start Missouri Valley Conference play. But the Aggies, rated No. 5 in the country, may get back in contention this year. Defending champion St. Louis was trounced by Tulsa, 86-73, Saturday night.

Washington, ranked a notch below Oklahoma A & M in the poll, is steaming along toward a northern division championship in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Southern California's loss Saturday to UCLA 72-62, after 11 straight victories, left Seton Hall, No. 2

The Rail Road: The prospects are very flattering as regards raising the amount needed to make our Railroad. There has already been subscribed in the Borough over $24,000, and the probability is that it will reach $30,000. In Cumberland township, so far as we have heard, the subscriptions have been very liberal—and we have scarcely a doubt when the canvassers of the Townships are done, sufficient will be found subscribed, to make the road.

Today's Talk

FIRE AND DESIRE
I believe that two words express the secret of most successes — fire and desire. Youth is full of fire. That is why so many so many worth-while enterprises are initiated in youth. Then, too, there is the desire that later years do not have.

It's the warmth — the fire — within our hearts that stirs us to action, but they must always be the desire behind all effort. To grandly achieve in any pursuit in life we must call upon our cooperative forces to see that they coordinate as well. Then there are efficient results.

It has often been said that nothing great has ever been achieved without enthusiasm. Enthusiasm without purpose, however, would be effort wasted. Mental and spiritual fire and desire should season all that we attempt.

The fire of hope, faith, and self-reliance never burns low where there is desire in the form of fuel! Take one example — Edison. He had the fire of enthusiasm and faith, but behind was the desire for an inventive triumph. We would have had no Lincoln had he not had the burning desire to get ahead and make something of himself.

In all crusaders are to be found this fire of the heart, and this desire of the mind and soul. It's a factor for improvement, advancement, and personal happiness in our daily lives, no matter what our station or work may be. Only in a free land does this fire and desire function without interference. Freedom creates incentive, without which no achievement is possible.

There is something else about this fire and desire created within us. It spreads. Others are influenced and inspired by it, and in a measure often not realized. No appreciation is so valued as that which flashes back from those whom we have, in some way, benefited. Increasingly life then becomes more and more worth while. Emerson suggested that we should hitch our wagon to a star! Fire in the heart and desire within the mind will help us to it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Don't Mind." Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

WITH ALL OUR FAULTS
They say we're loud and boastful, and of some of us that's true. They shake their heads and snicker at the foolish things we do. They say that we're ill-mannered, and to prove it they allude to the fact we dunk our doughnuts and drink coffee with our food.

They call us money chasers.
Well, of all the foreign lot I doubt there's one among them in these troubled times who's not. They are glad to have us lend it. But, as wise old Shakespeare penned,
The lender often loses both his money and his friend.

I'm not one to say we're perfect and have nothing more to learn, But we're quick to help the needy and we ask for no return. We have many ways and habits that seem foolish to the wise, But our strength is pledged to freedom as our greatest enterprise.

POPE ELEVATES 24 PRELATES IN SECRET RITES

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII today elevated 24 prelates of the Roman Catholic church to its College of Cardinals in a secret consistory opening four days of sacred rites here.

Other cardinals silently bowed their heads in agreement and homage to their sovereign Pontiff as the Pope announced his choices at a meeting of the college in the 100-foot-long marbled Consistorial Hall, the largest chamber of the Pope's Vatican apartment.

The historic act brought the enrollment of the college—the church's senate—to its full quota of 70 cardinals for the first time in nearly 200 years.

Series Of Sacred Rites
The new cardinals include the first wearer of the red hat from the United States' Far West, James Francis McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles; and two primates of Communist-ruled countries where the Catholic church is under bitter attack.

The latter are Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, "conditionally" freed from jail in Yugoslavia a year ago, and Archbishop Stefan Wyszynski of Poland. Neither is in Rome for the official notification that they have been made princes of the church.

The secret consistory today was the first of a series of ancient and sacred rites in connection with the elevation of the new cardinals. They will culminate Thursday in a great and colorful public consistory at St. Peter's, at which the Pontiff will confer on the new church princes their galeros, or red hats.

Last Time In '46
The Pope officially made known his nominations in an address during which he recalled that seven years had passed since the post-war consistory of 1946. At that time he named 32 cardinals—the highest number elevated at one time in the history of the church.

In addition to Stepinac and Wyszynski, six others are absent. Four—the apostolic nuncios to Italy, Spain, Portugal and France—will receive their notifications from the Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and French heads of state. Two new Spanish cardinals also will be notified by Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Cardinal McIntyre received his "biglietto" of notification at the historic North American Pontifical College, on Rome's Humility Street. A large throng of friends and fellow clergy applauded as he opened the big white envelope and read the message inside in silence.

27 Nations Represented
The same ceremony was enacted with the 15 other cardinals in the city.

Here at the Vatican, meanwhile, the Pope was continuing his address to the older cardinals.

Referring to the fact that the new cardinals extend representation in the college to 27 nations—the broadest distribution in the church's nearly 2,000 years of history, the Pontiff said he had aimed in his selection for just such an extension.

Foreign Relations Post For Sen. Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), essaying a stronger role, has decided to take a place on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and an active hand in shaping foreign policy under the Eisenhower administration.

The Ohio senator, already serving as GOP floor leader, expects to give up his high rank on the tax-handling Senate Finance Committee to become fifth man in the Republican line on foreign relations.

In that place, he will be in a position along with other committee members to get first-hand reports from John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's secretary of state.

Appearing on an NBC television program yesterday, Taft said he wanted to switch from the finance committee to foreign relations because foreign affairs are affected by all but about 20 billion of the 78½ billion dollars President Truman has proposed to spend in the fiscal year starting July 1.

WANT CONTROLS LIFTED BY IKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said Saturday the Senate Banking Committee "should ask Eisenhower to suspend wage, price and rent controls on his first day in office."

The President, under the Defense Production Act, has power to suspend the controls, and Bricker said he will urge the banking committee next week to send word to Eisenhower that it hopes he will use it.

Congress also could suspend the controls by passing a resolution in both the Senate and House.

The American Federation of Labor said on Friday Republican leaders in Congress have received word that wage-price controls are due for "sudden death" soon after the Eisenhower administration takes office Jan. 20. The AFL described Eisenhower as "about ready" to ask Congress to kill the controls without waiting for their official expiration date, April 30. There was no immediate comment from the President-elect's headquarters.

MRS. SMITH IS FOUND GUILTY; GETS LIFE TERM

TOKYO (AP)—An Army court Saturday convicted Dorothy Krueger Smith, a famous general's daughter, of stabbing her colonel husband to death with a foot-long hunting knife. The court sentenced her to life in prison at hard labor.

Mrs. Smith, 40, attractive mother of two teenagers, was convicted of premeditated murder in stabbing Col. Aubrey D. Smith, 45, of Boonville, Mo., as he slept in their Tokyo quarters midnight Oct. 3.

A nine-member court-martial board reached its verdict in 64 minutes of deliberation. It took slightly more than 30 minutes to fix the sentence.

Judge Weeps At Verdict
The head of the court, white-haired Maj. Gen. Joseph P. Sullivan of San Francisco, wept as he read the sentence in a choked, barely audible voice.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of retired Gen. Walter Krueger who commanded the Sixth Army in the Pacific war, showed only one sign of emotion—a slight quiver of her lower lip.

On previous days of the trial, the attractive Mrs. Smith repeatedly broke down and sobbed.

Case To Be Reviewed
The case will be reviewed by military authorities here and in Washington.

A defense attorney, Lt. Col. Howard S. Levie of New York City, said he was "very hopeful" the verdict would be reversed.

A prosecuting officer said Mrs. Smith would be sent to the United States in about two weeks and confined in a federal prison. Until then, she will be held in a prison ward of an Army hospital here. The prosecution presented 15 witnesses and the defense six.

Addicted To Alcohol
Two Army nurses testified that Mrs. Smith said she stabbed her husband as he slept.

Not once in the six-day trial did the defense contest the charge of premeditated murder. It based its case on a contention that she was temporarily insane, because of an overdose of drugs, and that she was gripped by an "irresistible impulse."

The Army's top psychiatrist, Brig. Gen. Rawley E. Chambers, was flown by the Army from Washington to testify in Mrs. Smith's behalf. For four years he had been her personal physician in San Antonio, Tex. He said she was addicted to alcohol and sedatives.

Manpower Pool Is Shrinking: Hershey

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has served warning to college students that selective service must "toughen up" on draft deferments.

But the general in interviews here Friday and a speech at the University of Texas Friday night said the needed tightening up was not up to him. The President, Congress and local draft boards must do it, he said.

A Bit Of History About Your Own Adams County

This is the 44th in a series of historical talks given over Radio Station WGEB by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, Adeline Sager professor of history at Gettysburg College, on some of the outstanding events and interesting episodes in the development of Adams County.

In the preceding article we gave the background of events leading up to the organization of the meeting in the old Court House on the center square in Gettysburg on December 3, 1863, and saw how at the very beginning of business those who had promoted the meeting were defeated in their effort to pass a motion to form a county Anti-Slavery Society.

Instead their opponents present passed a motion to petition Congress to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia and in the territories. This was an anti-slavery expression. Why were the promoters of the meeting opposed to this action? We ask that question again: What did it all mean?

Shades Of Opinion
We mentioned in the previous article that there were shades of opinion among American citizens of the north in those days regarding institution of slavery. Most people of the north thought that slavery should, in a legal and moderate way, be ended in the United States. The great difference between them was how and how soon. The most radical anti-slavery exponents were called the Abolitionists; they wanted slavery ended right away, and without regard to the slaveholders' interests or feelings.

Others felt that slavery could not be abolished quickly but some things might be done to move toward its eventual ending, and it could be prevented from spreading into the new parts of the country. Many also felt that neither slavery nor the slave trade should continue in the District of Columbia, the national capital.

Hold Adjourned Meeting
Of the men who led in the anti-slavery movement in Adams County, only a few were Abolitionists and their idea of a county Anti-Slavery Society was that it should be an abolitionist agency. To that end they called the meeting of December 3, 1863, and in that they were defeated in the afternoon session. However, this group left the meeting and arranged a meeting for 6 p.m. in the Gettysburg Academy.

At the appointed time and place, business was resumed with Mr. McAllister again in the chair. Immediately a committee was chosen to draft a preamble and a constitution for a county anti-slavery society. The committee consisted of Messrs. Wert, Reynolds, Dinwiddie, Benner, and Martin, who reported that the constitution, later to be presented, was based on seven fundamental principles which were concisely expressed as follows:
"1. That God had made, of one blood all nations of men; 2. that all men are created equal; 3. that all men are endowed by their Creator with a right to liberty, and that this right is inalienable; 4. that no human being can rightfully be held in slavery; 5. that the holding and selling of any human being as property is a sin against God, and a crime against man; 6. that immediate emancipation is the right of every slave, and the duty of every slaveholder; 7. that obedience to the Divine commands at all times, and under all circumstances, consistent with perfect safety."

Present Constitution
The constitution, then presented, was short but complete. Here is its most important part:
"Article I. This society shall be called The Adams County Anti-Slavery Society.

"Article II. The objects of the society are: 1. The entire abolition of slavery in the United

Praised By Countian

At his death in late 1885 Charles W. Griest of York Springs wrote the following letter for publication in the Star and Sentinel for January 12, 1886:

"Mr. Editor: The announcement in your columns of the recent death of Adams Wert recalls the fact that he was the last surviving member of the Adams County Anti-Slavery Society, the minutes of which are in my possession. Mr. Wert was one of the organizers of the society, and helped to form the constitution. He was a regular attendant at the annual meetings."

"I find that he was a delegate to the state Anti-Slavery convention in Harrisburg in the years 1835, 1836 and 1837. The following preamble and resolution submitted by Mr. Wert was adopted. It was what might be called a 'boycotting ring,' but shows the sincerity of his convictions and his readiness to carry his principles into everyday life. 'Whereas, the most odious system of human oppression, American slavery, derives its most efficient support from the purchase of the produce of slave labor by those who are not slaveholders, therefore, resolved, that from and after the 4th day of July next the members of the society will not purchase any articles of merchandise which shall have been produced by the labor of American slavery.'

31 Sign Document
The remaining six articles are devoted to specifying the officers, the meetings and such other details as are always in constitutions for societies of all kinds. This constitution was signed by 31 persons. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in: James McAllister, president; Joel Wierman, vice president; Adams Wert, second vice president; Hugh Dinwiddie, treasurer and William M. Reynolds, secretary.

The next meeting was held on the second Saturday in January, 1837 at Petersburg Academy in the present York Springs. Delegates were elected to the next state anti-slavery convention. This seems to have been the last regular meeting of the society, although individuals of the group continued unremitting abolitionist activities, particularly through the operation of the underground railroad.

Two Interesting Characters
It might seem to many today that recollection of such events nearly a century and a quarter ago, related to an issue that has been settled long ago, is without profit. In reply it can be said that, even of themselves might be considered of little present-day importance, they were connected with a phase of county history which is not without significance, assuming of course that one believes that historical recollection has any value.

They serve to illustrate not only an important phase of our county's life and thought those many years ago, but also present for our consideration the characters of two very interesting people, Adam Wert and James McAllister.

Mr. Wert has no other claim to fame than as a promoter of abolitionism, and in that connection he might be rated a fanatic. But

ASSIGN STATE SOLONS JAN. 13

WASHINGTON (AP)—The dean of Pennsylvania's GOP House delegation says Keystone State representatives probably will learn their congressional committee assignments on Tuesday.

Rep. Simpson said the Republican Committee on Committees expects to complete its work by that time, but he declined to disclose what tentative assignments have been made.

Rep. Eberhart of Pittsburgh, Keystone State member of the Democratic Committee on Com-

12 children, nine of whom survived him. Five of his sons served in the Civil War and one, James Alexander, was killed in the siege of Vicksburg.

On May 23, 1827, James McAllister bought 298 acres of land along Rock Creek in Cumberland Twp. from Messrs. Fleming and Anderson Ewing for $2,600. On this land was a grist mill which had been built in 1790 by Messrs. Gettys and Fleming, near the site of a small mill which had gone into operation about the year 1740. The tradition is that this mill site was the oldest grist mill site in the county.

Here at this location James McAllister spent his last 45 years, and here he carried on his activity as an operator of what was probably the most southerly station on the underground railroad in Pennsylvania. Here he demonstrated his ardent abolitionist sentiments, and made his most important contribution to the cause of anti-slavery. Because he was so important a figure in promoting the cause in Adams County and because of the significance of the McAllister Mill station, we propose to devote a future article entirely to this important means of expressing opposition to slavery, which was also evidenced by the organization of the Adams County Anti-Slavery Society.

Delegate To Convention
"Mr. Wert was one of the committee appointed to address the citizens of Adams County on the subject of the abolition of slavery. He also was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention held in Lafayette Hall, and cast his vote for John P. Hale as the anti-slavery candidate for president of the United States. They inscribed on their banners 'Free Soil — Free Labor — Free Man' as freed in the anti-slavery Freeman, August 21, 1852, in my possession.

"The pledge adopted was: 'We will fight on and fight ever until a triumphant victory shall crown our efforts.'"

It can be seen from what has been said concerning Adam Wert that he was a man with a sincere purpose, and it must have been a source of real satisfaction to him that he lived to see the end of the institution of human slavery.

Had 12 Children
James McAllister was just as sincere, even though he does not appear to have exerted an influence beyond the limits of the county. He was born December 15, 1785, and died February 9, 1872. He married his wife, Agnes, who survived him, on October 4, 1825 when he was 40 years of age. To them were born mittees, said there was no indication when his party's assignments would be announced.

One veteran Pennsylvanian appeared a clinch for a new committee assignment.

Rep. Hugh D. Scott of Philadelphia, former chairman of the and an early Eisenhower booster, reportedly has been assigned to the powerful rules committee, the traffic GOP for House legislation. Pennsylvania Republicans have sought representation on that committee, and Scott appeared the likely choice because of his early backing of the now President-elect.

GOP KEEPS 16 CHAIRMANSIPS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans controlling the Pennsylvania state Senate have reinstalled 16 of their members as chairmen of the same Senate committees they headed during the 1951 General Assembly session.

Topping the list of six changes in the total 22 committee chairmanships for the 1953 session is the switch of Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) to the top spot on the important Judiciary General Committee.

Walker, who opposed Gov. John S. Fine's recommended flat income tax during the 1951 session and was replaced as Republican floor leader, succeeds Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R-Philadelphia) as head of the 24-member committee.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford), new GOP floor leader, takes over the chairmanship of the Senate rules committee, formerly held by Walker.

Kephart was named chairman of the banking committee replacing Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr. (R-Somerset) who was moved over to the Agriculture Committee.

Pope Relaxes Conditions For Receiving Communion

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius today directed that conditions for receiving communion and celebrating mass in the Roman Catholic Church may be relaxed where necessary to meet the needs of modern life.

He issued a new "Apostolic Constitution" permitting bishops to authorize afternoon mass after four o'clock to accommodate workers who otherwise might not be able to get to church.

He ruled also that the taking of plain water no longer constitutes a breaking of the fast before communion, and that in certain circumstances some nourishment, not including alcoholic liquids, may be taken up to an hour before communion. Until now Catholics have been obliged to abstain from both food and water from midnight until receiving the sacrament at communion.

Cite Changing Conditions
The Pope declared, however, that persons who are not greatly inconvenienced should continue to follow all the old prescriptions of the church for receiving communion.

A vatican press office summary said the Pontiff was moved to alter the conditions of the ancient ritual of communion because of difficulties in missionlands and in countries where the church is being persecuted, and because of changes in modern life particularly among night workers, mothers and school children.

"Many workmen," it said, "are employed in factories, in transportation operations, work in ports or in other public services, are employed in shifts not only by day but by night, and therefore, can find themselves in the need of taking of some nourishment to renew their strength."

"In such a way they are impeded from approaching the eucharistic table while fasting."

Affects Mothers
It frequently happens, likewise, that mothers of families cannot approach the same table before having attended to domestic duties which often demand many hours of work.

"Similarly it becomes extremely difficult for many school children to go to church, receive communion and then return home to take necessary nourishment before going to school."

URGENT SEARCH FOR REDS IN U. S. COLLEGES

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate internal security subcommittee today urged further investigation of Red influences in the nation's schools and colleges and said there are "many hundreds of teachers who are Communists."

The subcommittee said it has turned up evidence from all parts of the country on Communist penetration of colleges, high schools and elementary schools.

During its public hearings in New York City last September and October, the group said, it became apparent it could only survive the situation in a broad fashion and submit an interim report to the new Congress.

IKE MEETS HIS ENTIRE CABINET TODAY FOR FIRST

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower meets with his entire Cabinet today for the first time—and also tries at another conference with GOP Senate leaders to solve continuing difficulties over patronage.

The incoming Cabinet members and other key officials of the new administration were getting together with Eisenhower and Vice President-elect Nixon for a round of global and domestic policy discussions.

The sessions will continue tomorrow, when smaller units of the same group are scheduled to hold a series of separate conferences dealing with problems which will confront Eisenhower and his associates when they take office Jan. 20.

Agree On Patronage

The President-elect arranged to confer in advance of today's Cabinet session with Senate Majority Leader Taft, Sen. Knowland of California, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee; and Sen. Millikin of Colorado, who heads the Conference of All GOP Senators.

Taft and another delegation of Senate leaders met Eisenhower two weeks ago to talk over patronage troubles—specifically, as the Ohio senator put it, complaints by some Republicans in Congress that the general wasn't consulting them in advance about job assignments in the new administration.

After that meeting Taft said the delegation had reached a general understanding with Eisenhower that such assignments would be checked through customary senatorial channels.

Too Much Confusion

Last week, however, the senators decided that things weren't going as they had expected. So they arranged another meeting with Eisenhower.

Taft said on a television program in Washington last night there is too much confusion over who in each state has the final say on political appointments.

Knowland, who spent the week end in New York, told a reporter he believes there are no major differences over patronage handling.

The Eisenhower Cabinet meeting today was bringing together these designees:

John Foster Dulles, secretary of state; Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense; George M. Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury; Herbert Brownell Jr., attorney general; Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon, secretary of the interior; Sinclair Weeks, secretary of commerce; Arthur E. Summerfield, postmaster general; Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture; and Martin P. Durkin, secretary of labor.

Eisenhower drove to LaGuardia Field yesterday to meet his son John, an Army major, who returned from Korea on a 15-day furlough to be on hand for his father's inauguration.

Father and son greeted each warmly, then went to the general's Columbia University home, where John visited with his mother.

The Eisenhower Story 7.

Hailed as Hero

In the months after victory in Europe, Dwight D. Eisenhower was wildly acclaimed at home and abroad.

Paris, London, New York and other cities gave their hearts in tremendous receptions to the man who was an unknown just a few years before.

Besides the tickertape and applause, there was a flood of gifts and awards. In all, Ike was given 50 U. S. and foreign decorations, 19 honorary degrees and 20 assorted medals, swords and awards of private groups, cities and nations. In Canada, they named a mountain after him and in Scotland they gave him a luxurious castle apartment.

And again the presidential boom was bubbling. Welcomed back home in Abilene, Ike was asked if he might seek the office. He said, positively, that when he left the Army he only wanted to be a private citizen, nothing more.

At the Potsdam conference in early August, 1945, President Truman told Eisenhower:

"General, there is nothing that you may want that I won't try to help you get. That definitely and specifically includes the presidency in 1948."

"Mr. President," Ike responded, "I don't know who will be your opponent for the presidency, but it will not be I."

Procedure Not Clear

McCarthy will be chairman of the Senate's permanent investigations subcommittee, but he said it would be willing to turn over its files and co-operate with another congressional unit.

The internal security subcommittee specifically recommended that it continue investigation in the educational field. In addition, it proposed that state legislatures consider setting up committees to undertake similar probes locally.

It was still not clear how the new Congress will handle its Communist investigations, although Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio said last night the lines of jurisdiction will be staked out between committees to prevent overlapping.

To Iron Out Conflicts

Taft told interviewers on an NBC television program that the Senate's GOP Policy Committee will iron out any conflicts in the Senate, then reconcile any differences with the House.

Taft said it has not been decided whether McCarthy will be given the major investigative role. He said he favored a search for sub-

By early 1948, the Eisenhower for President boom in both the Democratic and Republican camps had reached impressive proportions. Ike cut it off. On Jan. 23, he said his decision to stay out of politics was "definite and positive." He said he did not think that lifelong soldiers should seek high political office "in the absence of some obvious and over-riding reason."

On Feb. 7, 1948, Ike retired as chief of staff. He bought a new car, which he proudly showed to his wife:

"Darling, there's the entire result of 37 years' work since I caught the train out of Abilene."

NEW YORK (AP)—Vince Martinez, 23-year-old Paterson, N. J., "bobby sox idol" today was named Rookie of the Year for 1952 by the Boxing Writers of America.

Martinez outdistanced Ralph (Riger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., and Tommy Harrison, Los Angeles light heavyweight, in the voting. No final total was announced by President Nat Fleischer.

World's newest V8 with a million miles behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6. It is also the first designed with new "T" type intake manifold to replace the "Y" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 188 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert, mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power.

They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Letter to the Editor

Gettysburg, Pa.
1-12-53Mr. Paul L. Roy, Editor,
The Gettysburg Times,
Dear Sir:

With the passing of my good friend and yours, C. Arthur Brame Sr., so suddenly, this town and county has lost another of its excellent public-spirited citizens.

It was my pleasure to have known him since 1932; but our close friendship began when he was appointed to the command of the local state-guard, a temporary replacement of the National Guard then on active duty in World War II. While not a member of his outfit, I was "borrowed" from the Pa. Brigade headquarters of the Sons of Veterans Reserves to sound "Taps" at the military funerals conducted by the local American Legion post and the detail from the command of Captain Brame, whose personnel had a good sprinkling of business and professional men in its ranks.

At Emmitsburg, Md., where a military funeral was to be held I was waiting for Captain Brame and his command to meet me and the funeral party on West Main street. They appeared in the distance from the west motorcade. As they drew closer a colonel from the 3rd Corps Area remarked to me, "They present a natty colorful appearance."

At the cemetery their volleys were like "one shot" a very creditable showing.

Captain Brame had his detail at many funerals, some in near zero weather and the intense heat of summer. I recall one instance at by the PCIA and the Agricultural Extension Service. In 1952 the club, which started in 1948, had its biggest year. Of 291 farmers enrolled, 203 had their yields checked, and all but nine qualified for awards with yields of 75 bushels or more per acre. Results were computed at 56 pounds per bushel, 15 1/2 per cent moisture.

8 COUNTIANS WIN

Adams County winners and their yields follow:

Donald C. Leer, York Springs R. 1, 117.5; A. Irvin Hostetter, Hanover R. 4, 119.6; Charles W. Meckley, Hanover R. 4, 124.4; Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4, 132.3; Thomas Murren, Hanover R. 4, 112.3; Patrick Murren, Hanover R. 4, 118.8; Francis Murren, R. 4, 125.4; Benjamin Hufnagle, Hanover R. 4, 112.3.

Carlisle where we had to wait for three hours for the funeral party to come from Harrisburg, a delay we did not expect. Most of the detail didn't figure on eating there and did not bring much money along; they were getting hungry.

After the service was over Captain Brame took the whole detail to a good restaurant and ordered a good supper, paying for the entire bill out of his own money including the gas and oil. We never received as much as a card of thanks.

I join with his widow and family in saying "Rest in peace and God bless you."

Respectfully yours,
M. Sgt. William L. Baldwin,
Pa. Brigade Sons of Veterans

CATHOLIC MEN

committee investigations revealed what happens to policemen who do allow themselves to become contaminated with the ideas of those with whom they deal—the criminals. Fortunately the committee investigations also revealed that the number of policemen who gave way to indifference and then contamination was small in comparison to the great number of policemen—most of whom are not only honest, but seek to keep their ideals straight.

"The need of the policeman to keep his convictions firm is reflected in the need for all of us to keep our faith firm. We are surrounded by an atheistic world. It is far too easy to be indifferent, or neutral toward atheistic ideas. But from indifference we move unconsciously to contamination by those ideas."

The breakfast was prepared by a committee of the Holy Name Society and served by members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. President Leo McDermitt presided. Introduced were George Haenn, president of the Southern Regional Union of Holy Name Societies, and George Schachle, Grand Knight of the local Knights of Columbus. Clement Redding reported on a recent public party held by the Holy Name group for the church. Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of the church, spoke briefly.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

MANSFIELD, Pa. (AP)—A Bradford County motorist was crushed to death last night when his car struck the side of a tractor-trailer truck seven miles east of here on U. S. Route 6.

State police identified the dead man as Marlin Deloss Perry, 23, Columbia Crossroads. Police reported the car struck the trailer with such an impact with it slid under the larger vehicle.

New Ford Miracle Ride

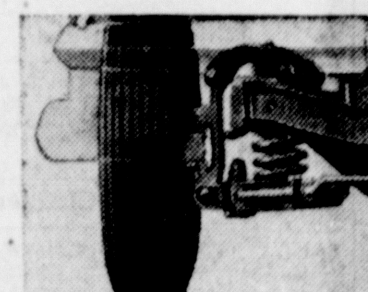

Here's new freedom from bounce, pitch and sway... an entirely new standard of riding comfort!

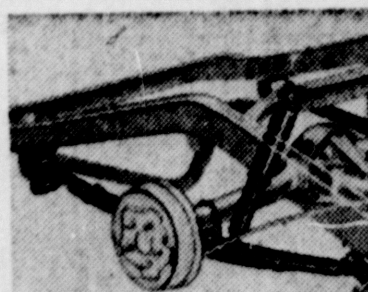

If you've thought it takes gas-eating weight and hard-to-park length to give real riding comfort you ought to try this '53 Ford. For Ford's new Miracle Ride actually seems to lay a carpet of smoothness even over the roughest roads. There's no bounce, pitch and sway to bother you, no uncomfortable roll on curves. Ford's new Miracle Ride marks a new era of riding comfort and quiet. It's another big reason why Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it!

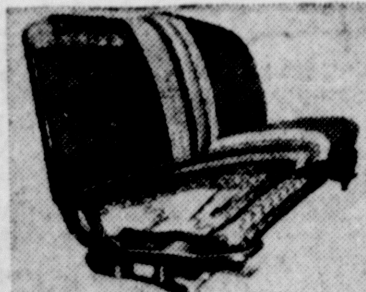

The New Standard of the American Road

80% less road shock! By increasing front wheel travel and redesigning the rubber compression bumpers, front end road shock is reduced as much as 80%. Springs are tailored-to-weight of each model, for best riding comfort, whichever model you buy.

Automatic Ride Control! Ford's Variable-Rate rear spring suspension actually makes the effective spring "stiffness" vary automatically as road and load conditions change. You get a smooth, level, comfortable ride on boulevard or roughest back road.

All day comfort! Scientifically designed contour seats, both front and rear, have thick foam rubber cushions. Non-sag spring construction is firm yet resilient. Automatic Posture Control provides the most convenient seating position for all drivers.

You've got to Value Check this new Ford's 41 "Worth More" features to know why Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it!

In this new '53 Ford you'll find not only a new concept of riding and driving comfort... you'll find more of the things you want and need than in any other car in the low-price field.

You'll find the "Go" you need, in Ford's high-compression V-8 and Six engines (and both thrive on regular gas). You'll find the great, all-round visibility... the easy handling, braking and parking you need for today's traffic. And you'll appreciate beauty that "belongs," wherever you may drive. No wonder Ford is the New Standard of the American Road.

See it... Value Check it... Test Drive it
